

MARVEL™ PEARL

BLAST FROM THE PAST

The Master line features new technology with strong, dynamic core shapes that are sure to help all bowlers looking to 'master' the sport of bowling. The success of the Marvel Pearl verifies technological feats like that of the Centripetal Core. You've spoken, we've listened. It's time to look into the vault and bring back something that was undeniably one of the greatest creations Storm has produced to date.

IT'S MARVELOUS

Looking to expand the Master line with additional performance options, our product development team determined that, with the success and feedback from bowlers around the globe, the series needed to expand with a new coverstock option.

A highly polished R2X pearl blend made the most sense being that we were looking to create a stronger move to the pocket. R2X fits seamlessly between the TX-16™ and R2S™ formulas found on the Phaze™ II and !Q™ Tour respectively. It is the perfect combination of length and strength.

Custom-engineered for the player who desires low, stable spin with forgiveness, the Centripetal Core features a center of gravity that is extremely low. The innovative cascading channels engage the circumference of the weight block and maximize mid-lane control with a smoother change of direction downlane.

Progressive, forward-looking innovations like the Marvel Pearl surpass the expectations of the most skilled bowlers who rely on keen precision and control to execute the most demanding shots in the game. Storm – We are "The Bowler's Company™."
